SHUT DOWN NAZI STORES!

DON'T SHOP AT IXL

a public service from
ANTI-RACIST ACTION

THIS STOREFRONT....

There are two IXL stores in Toronto, both owned and operated by Roderik Peer Jackson and his nephew/lackey Alaric. One is located at 535 Yonge (south of Wellesley), the other is called Reckless and is located at 202 Queen W. (west of University). Until 1989 Alaric managed another IXL store in Montreal, before being booted out by anti-fascists.

Over the counter, the IXL stores specialize in trendy fashion items such as Doc Marten boots and bomber jackets.

.....IS A NAZI FRONT!!!

Under the counter, they specialize in racist rock records, Confederate flag and Nazi patches, and other white supremacist regalia. Since opening in the mid-late 1980s, they have served as hangouts and make-work projects for some of the most violent neo-nazi thugs in the city.

The Heritage Front, the Nationalist Party, the Church of the Creator, and the Northern Hammerskins have all used these stores as bases for recruitment and organizing. Just as recently as April 23rd, 1994, 30 nazi boneheads gathered at the Yonge Street location on their way to a celebration of Hitler's birthday organized by the Northern Hammerskins. The manager of the store, Alaric Jackson, directed them himself to the final destination for the gig, the Latvian Hall at College and Bathurst.

WHO IS ALARIC JACKSON?

• Egomaniac? Is IXL really supposed to mean "I excel"?

• Budding rock star? Alaric "sañg" with Cross, a white power band which played at the 1989 Aryan Fest in Minden, Ontario, before being tossed out for his lousy vocals.

• Nazi propagandist? In the mid to late 80's he published Canada Awake!, a fascist fanzine featuring articles like "Death to Race Mixers".

• Wannabe martyr? He spoke at a 1991 Heritage Front Martyr's Day rally commemorating the death of Bob "Why are these white FBI agents trying to kill me?"

Matthews. Matthews was connected with the Order, a neo-nazi terrorist organization responsible for several robberies to finance the violent racist underground, and the murder of a Jewish talk show host in Denver, Colorado.

• Self-styled international bonehead icon? While in Montreal, he tried to organize the United Skinheads of Montreal. He contacted other nazi groups in the United States including Tom Metzger's White Aryan Resistance. He even travelled to England to visit Ian Stuart — pioneering racist rocker with the fascist band Skrewdriver — white-warrior-turned-dead-drunk-driver.

• Fascist financier? Alaric spent $900 to rent a bus to bring 40 of his bonehead pals to the 1989 Minden Aryan Fest. Who knows what the stores' profits are funding?

A vicious and violence-prone racist and anti-semitic, Alaric is a nazi bonehead organizer with a special interest in the racist rock scene.

FROM MONTREAL TO TORONTO, BOOT THE BONEHEAD BOUTIQUES!!!

The IXL operation didn't go unnoticed in Montreal. Anti-fascist youth took action against Alaric and his store, to the point that Alaric closed up shop and headed back to Toronto where Uncle Roderik was having more luck keeping his stores open.

For years, the real nature of the IXL stores has been common knowledge on the streets of Toronto. Now Anti-Racist Action has started to further expose the stores as nazi centres of operation. And under the pressure, Roderik and Alaric have exposed themselves! At a picket outside the Yonge Street store, Uncle Roderik called out the goon squad, who treated bystanders to a real spectacle of confederate flag-waving and seig heiling from across the street and inside the store.

At a recent picket of IXL on Yonge Street, the Hitler reflex was automatic. Not too good for business, but they just couldn't contain themselves, either inside the store (above) or across the street (right).

Again and again, we've heard that young people get involved in white supremacist, fascist groups first by connecting with the fashion and the music. The IXL stores promote these crucial areas of the white power movement. With the nazi street scene picking up steam, these bonehead centres are a threat to our communities.
